4TH ANNUAL HUMANISTIC MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE

Freedom & Responsibility: Leading for Well-Being

Conference for academics and practitioners

13-14 October 2016

Global Ethic Institute, Hintere Grabenstraße 26, 72070 Tübingen, Germany

Due to numerous business scandals in the last years, the corporate 'license to operate' – the freedom of business – has come increasingly under scrutiny. At the same time, calls for more economic responsibility abound: The Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN), the United Nations, and the OECD are demanding economic policies and business strategies no longer only directed to wealth accumulation but also promoting higher levels of human wellbeing. The conference wants to contribute to this renegotiation of the relationship between economic freedom and responsibility.

Honorary Lecturer: Jeffrey D. Sachs

Speakers: Claus Dierksmeier, Christian Felber, Enrico Giovannini, Ernst von Kimakowitz, Chris Laszlo, Hunter Lovins, Michael Pirson, Jürgen Volkert, Andrew Winston

To be confirmed: Romina Boarini, Stewart Wallis

The Humanistic Management Network will host a preparatory academic paper development workshop on October 12 for selected papers.
